STATEWIDE BUILDING OFFICIAL ACCESS TRAINING WORKSHOP

Who Should Attend

- All Local City/County Access Plan-Reviewers with basic knowledge of accessibility.

Purpose

California continues to be a pioneer in requiring that all publicly-funded buildings and facilities and all privately-funded public accommodations be accessible to and usable by persons with disabilities.

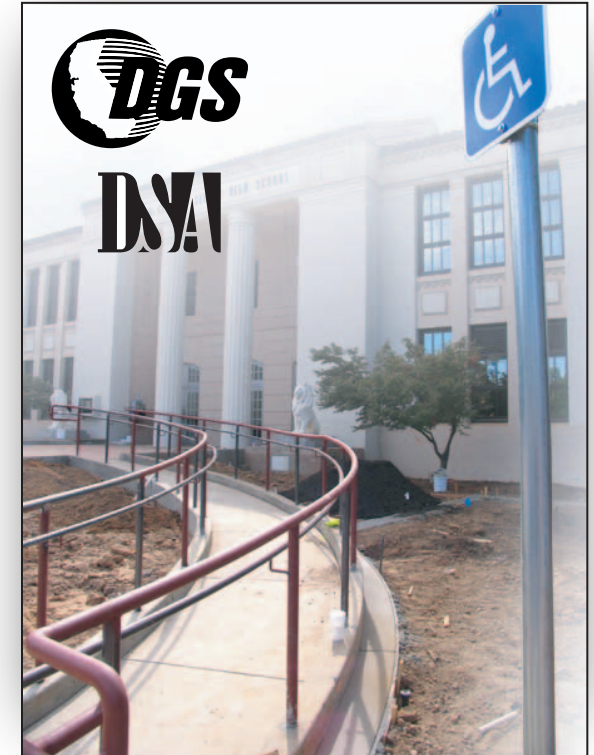

Local building departments are considered the "first line" of enforcement of California access laws and regulations. (Authority given via Gov. Code 4458; Health and Safety Code §19958.5.)

This workshop has been developed to help produce uniform quality within the access plan-review process through the use of tools necessary to:

- 1 ensure consistency of plan reviews within local building departments.
- 2 eliminate repetition (to write down the same comment over and over again).
- 3 provide guidance and justifications to the plan reviewer regarding "gray areas" of code.
- 4 demonstrate compliance and establish accountability standards in accordance with California Government Code.
